Vote for proven experience. Make a strong choice for Denison

My name is Madeleine Ogilvie, Labor Candidate for Denison. I am a true local candidate who grew up in New Town. I went to school in the electorate just as my 3 children do now.

I have over twenty years national and international business experience, including as a senior executive for Telstra. I am now a small business owner. I believe in the traditional Labor values of hard work, fair pay and leaving no one behind.

I have spent my life serving the community.

Madeleine's Contribution and Achievements.

- Vice President of the Southern Football League. I have helped reinvigorate community football and have delivered new sponsorships to the League.
- Board member of Regional Arts Tasmania. I have provided legal and business support to ensure community based access to the arts continues for all.
- Established Australian Lawyers for Human Rights (Tas) which is a strong voice for human rights - including the rights of single parents to a living wage.

- GASP! - A driving force in the establishment of the Glenorchy Arts and Sculpture Park (GASP) and current Ambassador.
- Provided pro-bono legal support for those who need it most.
- Member of Calvary Hospital's Consumer Advisory Group - staying engaged with health issues.
- Member of Ovarian Cancer Australia, a national organisation dedicated to fundraising for cancer research.

I believe Tasmania's future is in strengthening our education system and building new industry. With industry development comes new jobs. I have a proven capacity to deliver and the strength to stand up for people. Please give me your number 1 vote so I can deliver jobs and opportunities for Denison.
